Official Paper of Barber County

Anyway the Standpatters "point with pride" to the fact that they saved their candidates on the county ticket. Their good right hands have not forgotten their cunning nor do their tongues cleave to the roof of their mouths. Still the Insurgents can also "point with pride" to the August victory.

Jack Johnson, the colored champion pugilist, can't stand prosperity. Ever since his victory he has been impudent and almost criminal in his conduct. Last Friday he became so bad that he was arrested. He is charged with having slapped a white lady, a member of a theatrical company, in New York.

"The only thing that stands in the way of hard times," says the Medicine Lodge Cresset, "is President William Howard Taft." That's a hard shot at such Republican Senators and Congressmen as Bristow, Murdock, Jackson et al., saying nothing about the United States senate as a body, which is still controlled by a Republican majority.

According to the political mathematicians hereabout, it required two Republicans to vote a straight Republican ticket this year. We have it from a Republican high up in the party councils that two distinguished politicians compared notes after the polls closed on the evening of the eighth, and they agreed that each had voted half of the ticket—that is to say, that one voted for the half that the other omitted.

Fred D. Warren, of Girard, Kansas, editor of the "Appeal to Reason" has been sentenced to six months in jail and to pay a fine of $1,000 for printing on an envelope "One thousand dollars reward will be paid to the person who kidnaps ex-Governor Taylor and returns him to the Kentucky authorities." This action will probably make Warren friends and bring many new subscribers to his paper. Pretty small business for the government to be engaged in.—Lyons Republican.

Doesn't it make you weary to hear Republican politicians assert that the Democratic tariff of 1893 caused the hard times of those days? The Wilson tariff bill which was held responsible, was in fact a protective tariff measure. The schedules, in most instances, were higher than those of later Republican measures, and while President Cleveland did not veto it, he permitted it to become a law without his signature. But he stated that it was no means a satisfactory measure such as the Democratic party had promised to enact. If it could truly be said that a low tariff makes hard times, the Wilson bill could not have produced that effect, for it was a high tariff measure.

Since the smoke of battle has cleared away and there are no favorites to play in things political, a new question has arisen. It is not so momentous as to jar the Universe but withal of some local interest. It is this: "Who is the smoothest politician in Barber county?" A bevy of practical observers got together in this burge a few days ago and debated the question most exhaustively and adjourned to a future day without arriving at a definite decision. But our information (and it comes from one who was an active participant in the debate) is that so far as the returns are in, the trophy belongs to one of three distinguished gentlemen in the following order, to-wit: L. M. Axline, J. N. Tinscher, W. L. Bragg—all Republicans. It was held that, as the Democratic party is made up of the common herd, they all occupy an equal footing and there are no such things as leaders and political wire-pullers in that organization. They rely for success entirely on rugged honesty and straightforward, unostentatious affiliation with the multitudes. The conclusions of the "caucus" are well founded so far as the Democratic end of it goes, and we believe the right Republicans have been located from whom to choose in finally awarding the coveted honor.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case." Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without griping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

President Taft has a brother who is running an afternoon paper at Cincinnati and who may safely be taken as reflecting if not directly presenting the president's views. Hence, the following from Brother Charlie's editorial pen is right interesting:

"The chief lesson of the election of 1910 for republicans should be along the old line that a house divided against itself cannot stand. The great mass of Republicans are progressive, rather than radical or reactionary. Their ideas must prevail in the councils of the party if republicanism is to live and continue as the dominant force in American politics. The Republican party must face the future. It must refuse to get crazy on every radical proposition that is advanced, on the one hand, and it must as steadfastly refuse to stand still, on the other. It ought to be possible for the party to unite on such basis between now and 1912."

It would seem from this that the Tafts are willing to learn and that their intentions are good. But the people are going right on exhibiting object lessons whether the Tafts imbibed them into their systems or not, and it is equally a fact that Taftian good intentions don't longer cut any ice whatsoever.

That Republican masses are progressive and that their ideas must prevail in party councils isn't exactly red hot news, having been especially reported for the nation's benefit as long ago as Nov. 8th, but the admission that such is the condition by the Tafts is rather important, since they evidently have got to thinking about 1912.

But, with all consideration for his solicitude about 1912, may we ask Mr. Taft—William, Charles or any one else at all authorized in family matters—to further elucidate that innuendo about folks going "crazy on every radical proposition"? Generalities get nowhere in this busy, earnest life. Generalities are used for crosswalks in streets paved with good intentions, and Mr. Roosevelt has proved beyond cavil that they only make a loud noise when fired off even in the very faces of us patriots.

Before he lets us all go crazy on radical propositions, won't Mr. Taft kindly tell us where he stands in such matters as crucifying interior department employees who expose rascality, the initiative, referendum and recall, direct nominations, and such?

Just a little, William, to make the petition for 1912 "more definite and certain," as the lawyers plead in demurrer.—Wichita Beacon.

The Medicine Lodge Cresset continues to lambast the insurgents. Lay on MacDuff!

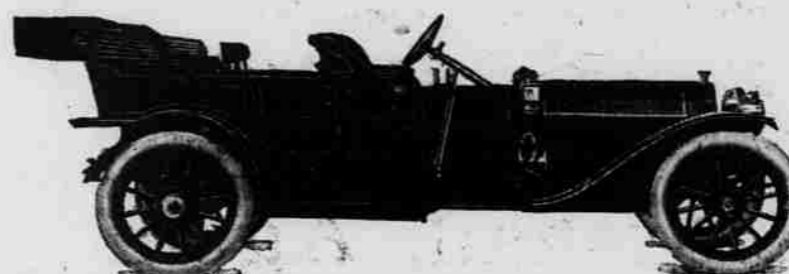

Another wholesome effect of the election: People have quit going wild every time Roosevelt's likeness appears on canvas.

It is observed that many of the standard papers have turned "calamity howler" since the late unpleasantness. They predict all kinds of disaster. Do you remember how they used to roast the Pops for howling calamity? Who's the howler now?
